Durium Cardboard Discs:

EL-T-IBM-274 to EL-T-IBM-278 are 4" records on cardboard substrate made by Durium Products, Inc., NY. They were removed from the papers of Herbert Brownell, Jr. EL-T-IBM-274 is unlabeled and the content is unknown. EL-T-IBM-275 through EL-T-IBM-277 appear to be examples of campaign material sent by Brownell to voters in the 1931-32 campaign period when he ran for Assemblyman in the Tenth Assembly district in New York. As quoted from a newspaper clipping (source unknown) which accompanied the collection:

The record starts with a band selection, playing the Notre Dame song, and then Mr. Brownell makes a snappy speech for about two minutes, in which he declares for continuation of the life of the Hofstadter committee until the city investigation is concluded; urges abolition of the personal property tax and comes out strongly for reduction of official budgets.

The discs have not been played to confirm this content. EL-T-IBM-278, labeled, "Important Information—Be Sure to Play This Record Today," has an address label for Mrs. Theodore Bullock of Lincoln, NE on the reverse. According to the Durium Discography at <http://durium.opweb.nl/>, this disc is a 1932 mailed advertisement for Chevrolet, featuring a pitch by radio announcer Alois Havrilla and background music, "Sing a New Song," played by Phil Spitalny's Orchestra.

Audograph Electronic Soundwriter Discs:

EL-T-IBM-279-1 through -20 are 8 ½" blue plastic discs of the Audograph Electronic Soundwriter format from the Gray Manufacturing Co., Hartford, CT. They came as a commemorative boxed set. The first fifteen discs comprise the "Recordings of the Centennial Republican National Convention, San Francisco, August 1956." The speakers featured on each disc are listed on each individual sleeve. The last five discs record the broadcasts of the National Election Returns on Nov. 7, 1956, with the locations of the broadcasts on the sleeves. The contents are as follows:
