The Records of the Inaugural Committee of 1953 were transferred by the National Archives in October 1985, December 2007, and June 2013. This collection consists of Federal records.

This collection contains the records of the committee established to organize the festivities surrounding the inauguration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower in January 1953. The records include the subject and correspondence files of the Chairman, the Assistant to the Chairman, the Executive Secretary and the Director of Publicity. It also contains the working papers of various subcommittees which handled specific aspects of the program, such as decorations, the inaugural ball, and the inaugural parade.
