SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This is a collection of newspaper and magazine clippings relating to General Eisenhower's campaign for the Republican nomination and the Presidency in 1952. This accession also contains some material on Richard Nixon, Robert Taft, Adlai Stevenson and John Sparkman. The collection consists of four series of clippings and a series of index cards.

The first series contains newspaper clippings from the period February 24, 1952, through November 5, 1952. These clippings are taken mainly, but not exclusively, from these major New York newspapers: the Times, Herald Tribune, Journal American, Daily Mirror, and Daily News. In a few cases, notably November 5, the entire edition of the New York Times is included. This file represents a general coverage of General Eisenhower's 1952 campaign. The folders are arranged chronologically by date of newspaper.

The second series consists of clippings dealing with the progress of the 1952 campaign in various parts of the country. These clippings are also taken predominantly from New York newspapers. They are arranged alphabetically according to the geographical area (state, territory, or city) about which the article was written.

The third series is made up of 1952 campaign-related articles taken from twenty-five different periodicals, including: Christian Science Monitor, Colliers, Life, Look, Newsweek, Saturday Evening Post, Time, and U.S. News and World Report. They deal with both the pre- and post-convention campaign and are arranged alphabetically according to the name of the periodical, with the exception of the first folder which contains a typed list of titles and sources of a few of the articles contained in this file.

The fourth series is a collection of newspaper clippings, again predominantly from New York papers, dealing with various aspects of General Eisenhower's 1952 campaign, and organized by subject. In addition to General Eisenhower, the articles deal with Estes Kefauver, Richard B. Russell, Adlai Stevenson, Harry Truman, Douglas MacArthur, Harold Stassen, Robert Taft, Earl Warren, and Averill Harriman.

Coverage of specific Eisenhower speeches is included. There are also three folders of political cartoons and one of commercial campaign material advertisements.

In addition to the clippings, there is included in this accession an incomplete index of the first two series (chronological and geographical) on 5x8 index cards.

The second set of index cards (3x5) consists of short outlines of speeches, evidently by General Eisenhower though this is not always specified. Each card gives the date, site, and main points of a speech. The cards are arranged chronologically and are taken from the period June 5, 1952, thru October 17, 1952.
